Ah-nui: panel's 16-2 visit bid

MEMBERS of the Umelco Welfare Services Panel hope to visit "lonely-girl" Kwok Ah-nui and her mother before they draw up a report next week on whether the case has been properly handled, according to convenor Dr Ho Kam-fai.

Whether the visits could be made will depend on the mental condition of Madam Wong Yuen-siu as well as her consent, he said.

He said that members were told Madam Wong is improving and she meets Ah-nui several times a week.

Dr Ho said the officials clarified points in the two reports submitted by Social Welfare Department and Director of Medical and Health Services.

Members were given a detailed account of Madam Wong Yuen-siu's illness and circumstances leading to the "break-in" on May 8, he said.
